500K Years

The Sergeants Major Academy has produced 27,206 graduates who collectively embody over 500,000 years of leadership experience.

1K Publications

The United States Army has over 1,000 official publications ranging from regulations, pamphlets, training circulars, field manuals and more.

2030-2040

The Army Learning Concept 2030-2040 strives to educate and prepare leaders to fight in ambiguous, complex, multi-domain environments.

The Ethical Application of AI

The United States Army is currently engaged in a complex and multifaceted struggle with technology. Fortunately, it is not in the way that many have predicted. Skynet is not here, and terminators are not roaming the streets hunting down the human race. Paradoxically, the Army's war with technology is far more perplexing, and it is adversely affecting the progress of professional military education.
